Business Model

This is what the AI gave me, it's not that bad explained. The application facilitates the meeting between people interested in learning or improving a language through conversations with native speakers, promoting cultural exchange and linguistic practice in an interactive way. It is aimed at all people who want to improve their language and cultural skills or any soft skills.

The application focuses on offering a simple and effective experience, allowing users to create profiles where they specify the languages they master and in which they want to improve. Through a matching system, users can connect with people who have compatible linguistic interests, encouraging language practice in a natural and friendly way.
